Caution... Pedestrian Crossing

Navigating the Rough Roads of Human Resources in a Family Business

Human Resource Issues occur in all businesses, especially when family members are employees!

Join an experienced panel of HR Experts and Family Business Owners and Members to discover the best practices for creating and maintaining successful human resource policies in a business where family members are involved.

Questions that will be answered:

- How do you balance compensation for family members working for the business?
- How to treat all employees equally?
- What are ways to remain objective when selecting a successor?
- How to work through the challenges caused by unspoken issues in a family business?
- How does a family crisis effect the family business, and how does the family, and the business, move beyond the crisis?
